About ZENITH

Professional Fireproofing and Industrial Painting of Steel Structures in Kazakhstan

ZENITH specializes in comprehensive solutions for the protection and coating of steel structures at industrial, infrastructure, and commercial facilities. We provide fireproofing, anti-corrosion protection, sandblasting, and industrial painting services in full compliance with the construction and fire safety regulations of the Republic of Kazakhstan.

Our solutions are used in a wide range of facilities, including industrial plants, logistics complexes, energy facilities, oil and gas infrastructure, commercial buildings, and residential projects.

The company operates on a full-cycle service model — from surface preparation and technical planning to the application of protective coatings and project completion.
